

CRETACEOUS 145.5 MILLION YEARS AGO

An inland sea spread through the middle of North America. Shallow seas covered the continent because sea levels were 300 to 700 feet higher than today. The climate was still much warmer than it is now.