

JURASSIC 201.6

MILLION YEARS AGO

North America broke away from Africa and began to move northwest. The Gulf of Mexico began to form as North America moved away from South America. North America was warm and wet. Michigan was still part of a highland, an elevated mountainous region, which was being heavily eroded or weathered throughout the Jurassic Period.